

Coffee Break

Question on Software or Operating system.

Change your default E-Mail Client

You may prefer to use a different E-mail program other than 'Outlook Express'

When you get Windows up-date you may find that Outlook Express has been activate as your default E-mail program again. To change to your preferred E-mail program, open the Control Panel and click on [Internet Options].

Open the 'Programs' menu by clicking the [Programs] tab.

Left click the E-mail option pull down arrow and click on the E-mail program you choose to use. All E-mail programs that have been installed will display in the window.

Click [Apply] then the [OK] button.